

Message for Drivers: Stay Healthy by Disinfecting Your Surroundings

Our drivers already know how important it is to wash their hands with soap and water regularly during this pandemic. But it's also important to disinfect the things around them.

As a driver, they spend a lot of time in their truck. And in every cab are dozens of surfaces where the COVID-19 virus can linger – the steering wheel, the door handle, the DriverTech unit, etc. Even their phone and other frequently touched personal items can have the virus living on them.

But it's not just inside their cab. Viruses can be picked up from anywhere – particularly from things that people touch frequently, like gas pumps or paperwork scanners. We're asking our drivers to be sure to wash their hands after using gas pumps or wipe them down with a disinfectant wipe before using them. And scanners? That's even easier. Drivers can just use our Xpress Mobile app to scan in their paperwork right from their phone.

We know this can be a scary time. We're asking everyone to just do their best to stay healthy and remember we'll be here for them every step of the way.
